TROY STATE COLLEGE

Established as Troy State Normal School
by the Alabama General Assembly in 1887.

The Alabama Legislature has approved
the following changes in the name:

Troy State Normal College 1893

Troy State Teachers College 1927

Troy State College 1957

Land and the first building for the original downtown campus and the land for the present site were provided by the City of Troy.

The College was moved to the present campus in 1930.

The State Board of Education authorized the College to grant the Bachelors Degree in 1929 and the Masters Degree in 1956.

The Palladium

There is an aura of symbolism surrounding the annual of Troy State College, which originated with the idea of the Palladium of Pallas Athena.

Pallas Athena was the Greek goddess upon whom the preservation of Troy depended. It was said that the city of Troy could not be conquered so long as the Palladium remained in the temple of Athena. In order to capture the city, Odysseus and Diomedes carried off the statue. It was not long afterward that the city fell to the Achaeans.

Athena, in addition to being the guardian of Troy, was endowed with many other distinguishing characteristics. Because she was born of Zeus himself, she was from birth, invested with a mental and moral character that was above reproach. She was represented as the goddess of wisdom and knowledge and patroness of war. Under her guidance, victory was won by cunning, prudence, courage, and perseverance. With the above mentioned traits and many more not mentioned, it is easy to see why the name Palladium was selected as the title for the Troy State College annual.

What could more exemplify wisdom than the late Dr. Frank R. Stewart? It is not possible to measure the advancement made by Troy State during his tenure as its president. The role of leadership has now been bestowed upon Colonel Ralph W. Adams, a man whose ability as a leader has already been proven.

The administration is here to guide us, the students, through our brief tenure at Troy State. Through their guidance we, the students, acquire the knowledge needed to better prepare ourselves for the life ahead. As students, we develop the mental and moral character so necessary for a successful life. We develop perseverance and prudence, from participation in the many worthwhile campus organizations. We not only develop our bodies mentally, but also physically through sports. From sports we learn courage and cunning.

Yes, the Palladium is more than just a name. It is a meaning within itself. It is Troy State College.

DEDICATION

Coach John Archer

With great pride and sincere appreciation we, the 1965 Palladium Staff, dedicate this edition to Coach John Archer, whom we have come to know as a friend, to respect as an educator, and to admire.

Sincerity . . . faithfulness . . . ability . . . each holds its place as one of the many characteristics of Coach Archer. As a member of the Physical Education Department and as head basketball coach, no one has better personified the spirit of Troy State College.

We hope that this dedication will, in some small way, make him feel that his efforts have been appreciated.

ADMINISTRATION

TROY STATE'S FIRST FAMILY

President Adams making one of his many personal appearances in behalf of Troy State.

PRESIDENT

Ralph W. Adams

President Ralph W. Adams arrived on our campus Thursday, October 1, 1964. We welcome our new president and are expecting profitable years under his capable leadership. Though President Adams has had little prior experience in college administration, his administrative experience in other areas and his intimacies with state political leaders have already proven to be great assets in his new job.

President Adams is a reasonable and understanding man who is willing to listen. Through his actions he is showing us that Troy State College and education in Alabama mean much to him.

President Adams, we welcome you to Troy State College.

To All Students at Troy State College

Shakespeare said:

"The time of life is short;

To spend that shortness basely were too long."

What a person does for his fellowman and what he contributes to society are yardsticks upon which man's worth can be measured.

The person who succeeds is the one who has a goal early in life and toward that goal habitually directs his efforts.

Bulwer wrote:

"Even genius itself is but fine observation strengthened by fixity of purpose. Every man who observes vigilantly and resolves steadfastly grows unconsciously into genius."

Here at Troy State College you have built and are building a solid foundation. Our minds and hearts will be with you as you go onward and upward.

President Ralph W. Adams

IN MEMORIAM

Dr. Frank R. Stewart

1910-1964

Dr. Frank R. Stewart served as president of Troy State College from July 1, 1961, until his untimely death March 24, 1964. During that short span of time he commanded the admiration, love, and esteem of the college students, faculty, and staff. He was a man of contagious spirit who loved to serve his fellowman. His life was devoted to promoting the cause of education.

The influence of Dr. Stewart will long be felt on our campus and the rememberance of his life will ever remain in the hearts of those who knew him. His gentleness, kindness, winning smile and warm handshake will not readily perish from our memories.

FOOTBALL

THE COACHES

Rudy Argenti
Backfield Coach

Coach Argenti, this year, produced a tremendous backfield. Paced by Jerry Reeves, it was undoubtedly one of the best Troy has ever seen.

Dr. William Clipson
Head Coach

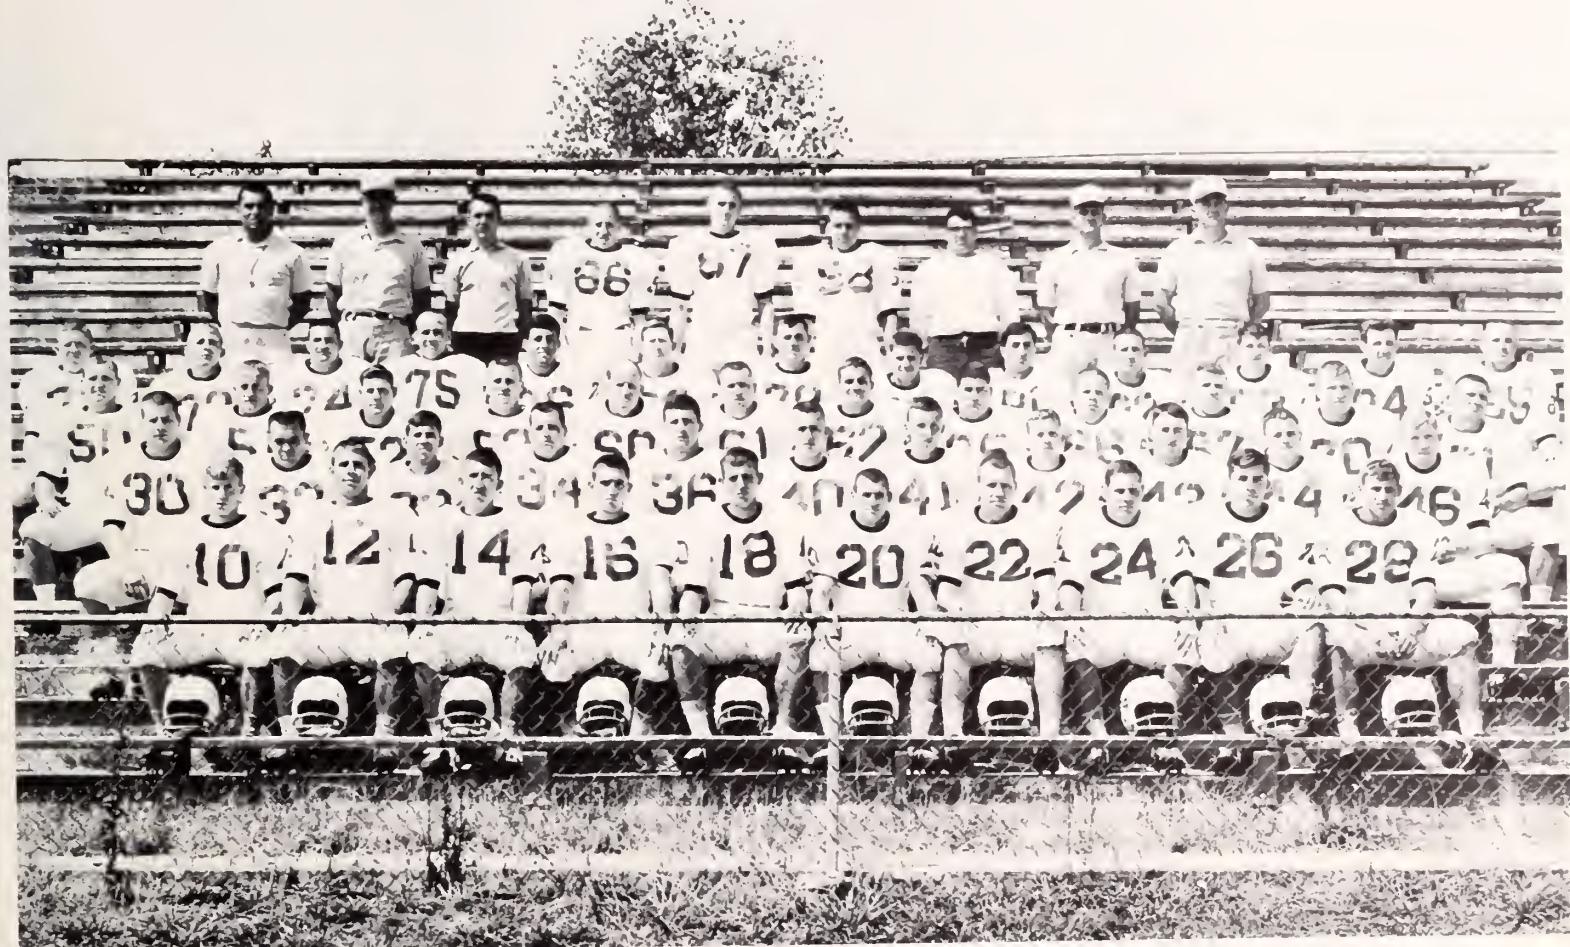

Dr. Clipson has been head coach at Troy State College for ten years. This year he with the aid of his assistants turned out one of the best football teams in the history of Troy State College. There has never been a better one, and only one team in the past has been its equal.

Billy Williams
Line Coach

Coach Williams, although this was his first year at Troy State, turned out the number one defensive line in the league. The defense only allowed eighty-six yards per game.

Alabama; Freshman; first year football.

Troy State in 1964 had its best season in fifteen years. The previous record being a six won, three lost season in 1949 under Buddy Grantham. So, the 1964 team ranks as equal to the best in the history of the school.

Only nine men were lost to graduation this year. These men will have to be replaced by next year, and will be. Among those lost are two "All Americans". They are Ron Burroughs and Jerry Reeves.

The team for 1965 shows great promise and hope for a greater season than 1964. With the capable coaching staff at Troy State, everyone can look forward to a perfect season in 1965.

All-American Jerry Reeves goes for 43 yards against Presbyterian.

Jerry Reeves

Jerry, a four year veteran, culminated his college career in grand style. He was selected as an NAIA All-American. His teammates selected him as Most Valuable Player, Best Offensive Back, and Team Co-Captain. Jerry was also selected to the All-ACC team.

Ron Burroughs

Ron concluded his college football career by being selected NAIA All-American. Ron's teammates selected him as Best Offensive Lineman, and Co-Captain of the team. Ron was placed on the All-ACC team.

Walter Landing

Walter, a senior, topped off the year by being selected Best Defensive Lineman. He was voted to the All-ACC team.

Ben Baker

Ben, probably the smallest man on the team, was picked as Best Defensive Back. He too, made the All-ACC team.
